Dear Dr. Johnson:

At its meeting on November 14, 2020, the Joint Review Committee on Educational Programs in Nuclear Medicine Technology (JRCNMT) reviewed of the self-study and letter of site visit findings for the nuclear medicine technology program at Cuyahoga Community College. The program was found to be in compliance with the Accreditation Standards for Nuclear Medicine Technologist Education.

Accordingly, the JRCNMT voted to confer continued accreditation for seven (7) years. The program's next review for continued accreditation will occur in 2027. A mid-cycle report will be requested in 2024.

In 2018, the program was placed on heightened monitoring because the graduate pass rate on the national certification examinations was below the JRCNMT threshold of 80% for first-time examinees for the most recent three-year period. Heightened monitoring continued in 2019, with the program submitting progress reports to the JRCNMT detailing its efforts to improve the pass rate. Certification exam data submitted for 2020 graduates indicates that the program's 2018-2020 pass rate for first-time examinees on the national certification exams is 84%; therefore, the JRCNMT removed the program from heightened monitoring for this issue.

Continued accreditation is awarded on the condition that the number of students enrolled in the clinical phase of the program shall not exceed 16. The following institutions are recognized as affiliates:
