Dear Dr. Pestello:

At its meeting on October 22, 2021, the Joint Review Committee on Educational Programs in Nuclear Medicine Technology (JRCNMT) evaluated the self-study and letter of site visit findings of the nuclear medicine technology program at Saint Louis University. It was determined that the program is in compliance with all standards and is meeting expectations for student outcomes, therefore the program's accreditation was continued for seven years, the maximum period.

As part of the comprehensive program review, an assessment of all clinical affiliates determined that a maximum capacity of 18 students can be accommodated in the clinical education portion of the program. The following institutions are recognized as this program's clinical affiliates:

Affiliate	Location	Affiliate Capacity for this Program
Barnes-Jewish Hospital* [□]	St. Louis, MO	4
Cardinal Health	Overland, MO	arr @ 2
Christian Hospital	St. Louis, MO	1
Memorial Hospital Belleville	Belleville, IL	1
Mercy Hospital South	St. Louis, MO	1
Mercy Hospital St. Louis [□]	St. Louis, MO	4
Missouri Baptist Medical Center [□]	St. Louis, MO	2
RLS (USA)	St. Louis, MO	arr @ 1
SSM St. Louis University Hospital [□]	St. Louis, MO	2
St. Luke's Hospital	Chesterfield, MO	1
VA St. Louis – John Cochran Division [□]	St. Louis, MO	2
Total program capacity		18

*Shared with another program

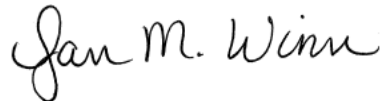

[□] Affiliate also has an arranged capacity of 1 for diagnostic CT rotation

The program's next review for continued accreditation will occur in 2028 and a mid-cycle report must be submitted in August 2025.

Notification of this decision will be forwarded to the academic institution's accrediting agency and will also be made available to the public through the JRCNMT website and its publications.

The JRCNMT extends best wishes for continued success of this program.

Sincerely,
